What are your general impressions/comments about OutStart's 'Always Learning' Webinar Series?
What ideas do you have for future Webinars?

First time attending. The pace, tone and organization were excellent. Enough information to know whether I want to seek detailed information and how topic relates to my day-to-day work.

brian.driggs@phoenix.edu

I like the short timeline as means of inspiring ideas, but it would be nice if there were opportunities to follow up with longer webinars going into more detail on the materials covered.

John Carey john.carey@xerox.com

This was a great quick way to learn about a real-life example of learning objects

maria.hlas@pnc.com (PNC Bank)

First session ever attended; would attend others; helpful nuggets of info & examples

marylynn.kasputis@verizon.com

Excellent. Length is webinar was perfect. Content was perfect.

vincent.farley@bannerhealth.com

Short and good!

marygray@cisco.com

Interesting presentation. I was interested to see the duration it takes to develop an SO. I agree that most of the time has to be spent on the analysis and design part paving the right level of foundation to kick off content development.

nagavalli.pataballa@oracle.com

I appreciated the quality of content and the 30 minute time frame for today's webinar. Discussions the design process and outcomes were very helpful.

jleffron@gmail.com

Very informative and thought-provoking; well-designed and organized

jschade@bstglobal.com

This is my first seminar and it was GREAT!!! love the 30 minute format - it forces the speaker(s) to get right down to business

srobbins@bfrc.com (Bridgestone Retail Operations)

Too short - and no time for answers to questions submitted

nic@amoslaycock.com

I thought the management of time in the 1/2 hour block was done well. I posed two questions which I don't think fit within the framework of answered during the session, so I am looking forward to follow up as noted by the moderator.

lenericksonst@gmail.com

Very impressive! My first time attending

judyj42000@yahoo.com

30 minutes is a great introduction to the topic to start discussions. I would love these to be 1-2 hours.

greg.mellang@lawson.com

Really appreciate the format - focused, managed well, follow-up, thoughts and techniques that are applicable

marty.schnatterly@convergys.com

Great!

mjohnso@cap.org (College of American Pathologist)

Excellent speaker - this is my first Outstart webinar

cindy.stiff@sbafla.com

Good content and pace and unlike some "free" webinars they don't come across as a hard sell.

jane.e.goodwin@gmail.com

Great.

David.Riddle@bcssc.com (Blue Cross/Blue Shield-South Carolina)

Good! More cutting edge examples of E-Courses being used successfully.

William.Love@mmoh.com (Medical Mutual of Ohio)

Great quality and status

melissa.fling@dishnetwork.com

Very good and informative session

ksmith@infre.org (International Foundation for Retirement Education)

I really enjoyed the seminar
drlauratissington@yahoo.com (Dr. Tissington, University of West Florida)

Of the recent webinars that I have attended, this topic gave me something to think about and to plan on using the tips and techniques on my next training project.
molly_lam@hotmail.com

This is the first one that I have attended. I like the 30-minute format, and the speaker and topic were excellent.
gbussell@cas.org (Division of the American Chemical Society)

Very valuable information. A great resource for what others are doing in the field.
jdselix@pbsj.com (Engineering, Environmental Science, Architecture, Construction firm)

I like the fast-paced half-hour format. Topics have stretched my knowledge.
alburnett@edmc.edu

I found this very interesting, the format worked for me except maybe see how the products work versus static screen captures splath@cap.org (College of American Pathologists)

Good content, good pace and no hard sell on a specific solution.
jane.e.goodwin@gmail.com

Excellent model
Kespenant@summitlearningsystems.com

I liked today's seminar.
maureen.brennan@molsoncoors.com

Enjoyed. The speaker was very good and focused on the content - important to build our knowledge on how 'best' to use available tools. Appreciate listening from people who developed award winning / best in class solutions.
laura.a.melnick@ca.ibm.com

Very informative.
robin.miller@salemhealth.org

I really enjoyed it. Particularly the demonstrations of individuals who have implemented it.
spark@unt.edu

Too short. It could've been a full hour.
jobinverness@ingahammond.com

Competent
alexwong@araphel.com

Excellent, practical suggestions.
cindy.stiff@sbafla.com (Florida State Board of Administration)

This was the first that I was able to attend and it provided some useful nuggets of information as well as re-affirmation of some of our existing processes

clyons@cantire.com

First one I've attended. Presenter seemed very knowledgeable and it was a good presentation.

khofstetter@deltadentalpa.org

I really like the format a lot. The interview style is engaging and brings out the real points of the presentation.
